This graduate course focuses on issues of race, racism and equity in education and society. It draws from interdisciplinary perspectives to address and shape individual, systemic and structural analyses of inside and outside of school matters. Specific attention is placed on research, theoretical tools, policy, and practice to advance what we know (and how we know it) regarding “raced” knowledge.

Mondays 4:30pm – 7:10pm; 5702 Posvar Hall

SCHOOL OF EDUCATION – ADMPS 2050 (#29503) / EDUC 2103 (#29502)